

ABSTRACT

The invention is in the field of apparatus and processes for bending wire binding elements, which are used for binding brochures. According to various aspects of the invention, apparatus and methods are provided for bending wire binding elements to bind brochures.

Patent of the United States